WORLD CERTIFICATION INSTITUTE

Global Authority on Occupational Certification

The World Certification Institute assesses and examines the level of skills, competencies and professional practices and determines the classification of the world credentials in specialized occupational fields.

Successful applicants are admitted into a world register listing of certified professionals or accredited practitioners.

World Certification Institute also undertakes the accreditation of courses that are organized by external organizations. The Accreditation Process involves assessing the occupational validity of the program, the competence of the trainers and the assessment methodology.

Organizations applying for their courses to be accredited by World Certification Institute are required to furnish
